The Girl Scouts, working under the direction of their leaders, sold library tags in the sum of $160 Saturday, according to Mrs. Clay Cooper, who heads the library fund drive.

Mrs. Cooper presided at a coffee given Monday at the library building, at which time a large number of books were donated for the library, and the cash fund was considerably increased.

Mrs. Cooper expressed great pleasure in the interest which was being shown in the library by the people of Randall county. Very few persons refused to make donations Saturday to the Girl Scouts as they sold tags; and the response for the donation of cash and books is proving to be of great benefit to the library.

The goal is for 1,000 books in the library; 500 replacements of the books which are worn out and are no longer of public use; and 500 new books which are not now on the shelves of the library.

The campaign opened officially Saturday and will continue until the needed books are received.

Hamlin Bibles on Display at the Museum

During the Easter season, a special display at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum will feature old or unusual Bibles from the archives. The exhibit will be shown until the Monday after Easter in the third floor Hall of Fine Arts. Most of the Bibles shown are from the collection donated by the late Judge James D. Hamlin of Farwell.

Included is the giant Bruce Rogers World Bible which measures 19 1/2 inches by 13 1/2 inches. This Bible was printed in 1949 by A. Colish.

Oldest of those shown is a volume printed in 1592 or 1593 in England. It contains the Old Testament according to Immanuel Tremellius and Francisco Junius and the New Testament according to Theodore Beza and Tremellius. Calvin's successor at Geneva was Beza, who produced an important New Testament text in 1550. One of the Bibles shown at the museum has the same text as that in the famous Gutenberg Bible, the first of which was printed in 1455.

One of the Bibles, considered among the rarest of rare books, is the Geneva Version, commonly called the "Breeches Bible" because of the wording of Genesis 3:7. This reads: "Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they knew that they were naked, and they sewed figge tree leaves together, and made themselves breeches." This was the common English version until it was superseded by the Authorized version in 1611. The Breeches Bible was printed in 1608.

An unusual prose rendition of the Bible, one of the many attempts to change the wording of the book, was published in Connecticut in 1818, and this Bible also is being shown during Easter.

In the exhibit are big Bibles, middle-sized Bibles, and one tiny Bible which will fit easily into the palm of a hand.

Mrs. Gene McGlasson, Jr., archivist, said the Easter exhibits offer an opportunity for the public to see these volumes which ordinarily must be kept locked away because the museum does not, as yet, have suitable cases for maintaining them on permanent display.

Shivers Will Name Officer

The legislature passed the bill introduced earlier in the session of the lawmakers by Senator Grady Hazlewood to abolish the office of County Attorney of Randall county, and to appoint in his place one man to serve as District Attorney.

Since the bill was not passed the House by a record vote, the bill will not become effective until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature. At that time Governor Allan Shivers would appoint a District Attorney to serve until the next general election.

Gene McGlasson resigned as county attorney the first of March, and the Commissioners Court filled the vacancy by appointing Avenet Lair to the office. Mr. Lair was formerly an assistant District Attorney of the 47th Judicial District and upon resigning his post opened a law office in Canyon.

The change was recommended by the Commissioners Court of Randall county as an economy move. The county will not be called upon to pay part of the expenses of the 47th District Attorney's office as in the past with a separate D. A. office.

W. L. Vaughan was here Saturday until Tuesday from Austin to look after his property on Fifth Avenue.

Putting Up Money For Summer Trip

When a group of West Texans make a tour of the West Coast and Canada next summer by chartered bus, a full menu of entertainment in every city and national park will be available. The 26-day tour will take the vacationers through nine states and Canada.

The tour is sponsored by the geography department of West Texas State College, and this year is a non-credit "course." Tours for the past two years have carried college credit, and emphasis was on the educational aspects of geography, but this year will be on entertainment and recreation. The tour starts July 18.

Dr. Murry B. Measamer, who conducts the tour, said that he plans to supply the 39 persons who make the trip with detailed information outlining theatre programs, sight-seeing, points of interest, and entertainment features in every place visited. He said that entertainment of various kinds will be featured at all national parks visited.

The group will visit such places as Hollywood, San Francisco, Yosemite National Park, Redwood Highway, Crater Lake, Willamette Valley, Victoria, B. C., Cascade Mountains, Grand Coulee Basin and Dam, Lake Louise, Alberta, the Columbia Ice Field, Grand Tetons, and the Yellowstone National Park.

Cost of the tour is $250, and reservations are still being accepted. They may be made through Dr. Murry Measamer, Department of Geography, West Texas State College in Canyon.

April 12 Set For Polio Date of Vaccination

Randall County parents of children in grades one and two have almost unanimously made requests that their children be given the Salk vaccine for polio if it becomes available this month.

A meeting of teachers, physicians, and school administrators was held last week at the home of Dr. R. P. Jarrett, county health officer, and information had from the Polio Awareness Conference at Fort Worth was given by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, who attended the meeting as a representative of this county.

At Fort Worth, it was brought out by Dr. H. T. Wagner of the headquarters staff of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that in the thousands of children who were vaccinated in the field trials of last year, there were no ill effects.

Dr. Wagner also emphasized that the vaccination is not painful to the child. He also explained that three doses are given in order to give each child maximum protection. The second shot which is given one week after the first, and the third shot which is given four weeks after the second are called booster shots. They cause the body to develop more "antibodies" than a single large shot would do.

Superintendent Joe A. Gibson, and Principals Lawrence Brotherton and E. R. Reeves and Sister M. Dymna of the Umbarger school all reported that request forms had been distributed to parents and most of them had been returned. The vaccination is a free service, made possible this year to children of the first and second grades through the March of Dimes Fund, but no child will be vaccinated except upon written request of its parents.

It was brought out that even children who have had polio should be vaccinated. There are three known types of polio and the fact that a child has had one type does not mean that he will not be a victim of the other types, according to Dr. Wagner's statement.

Dr. Jarrett outlined the procedure that will be used when the vaccine is received in Randall County. All physicians are co-operating, and only a few hours will be needed to give the children the best safeguard possible against polio before the bad season for it comes.

Everywhere in this community there has been splendid cooperation in this work. This week the elementary school principals and Mrs. Reeves are working on the personnel of voluntary workers who will assist in the programs. Teachers and physicians are answering the questions of pupils and parents.

Canyon and Umbarger people are anxiously waiting for the announcement on April 12, which will tell whether the children of the age most likely to have polio will be protected this summer. It is confidently expected that the Salk vaccine will receive the approval of the United States Government on that date.

When that approval comes, parents will be notified of the next step in the program, which will be vaccination number one.

Annual Easter Egg Hunt Sunday At V.F.W. Club

The annual Easter Egg Hunt will begin Sunday promptly at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at the V.F.W. grounds northwest of town. The annual hunt is sponsored by the ladies auxiliary of the V.F.W. This year the women have recruited the help of the men in the V.F.W. to assist in directing the hunt.

Mrs. John Hardaway, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, said this year the grounds will be divided into three sections. In each section there will be one egg specially wrapped or specially marked and the finder of this egg will be given a surprise gift. Youngsters will be divided in three groups for the hunt. One group will be preschool age children; second section for youngsters through the fourth grade age level in school and the third and final group will be for those above the fourth grade.

Some of the eggs for the hunt will be supplied by the auxiliary but they may not have enough for all the children. For this reason they are asking parents who bring children to also bring a few eggs. In order to have all the eggs hidden at the same time they are asking that eggs for the hunt be left at the home of Mrs. John Hardaway, Mrs. Luke Miller, or Mrs. Johnnie McBroom by 1 o'clock Sunday evening.

Court House Paint By Prison Labor

Paint is being spread over the court house, but the painting job is not costing the county any money. Prisoner labor is being used.

A painter is in jail charged with DWI, and his helper, also charged with DWI, was engaged in the painting business.

Rather than sit around in jail waiting for their terms to be served the boys prefer to work out their sentence.

A large part of the janitor work on the court house is being done by prison labor.

Tornado Season Is Again With Us — Research by Government

Once again we are approaching the tornado season. More than half the tornadoes which occur all year occur in a short period of time between mid-March and June.

There has long been some mystery concerning the origin of a tornado. Today, however, it is generally agreed that tornadoes are formed in several ways, usually when warm, moist air is bypassed, above, by cold air — which cold air is usually moving from west to east. The moist, warm air usually comes from the South, with a southerly wind pushing it. Tornadoes also result from long lines of thunderstorms, called squall lines.

There is no way known to man to prevent destruction if an ordinary house is caught in the path of a tornado. The tornado's circular winds are much more dangerous than those of a hurricane. The only consolation is that a tornado usually strikes an area only a few hundred yards wide.

This year the U. S. Weather Bureau plans to set up a special research network to investigate tornadoes. This network will consist of ten instruments called variographs. Variographs measure barometric pressure and these measurements may provide valuable clues concerning the formation of tornadoes and rapid barometric changes which occur at this time. However, little is known about tornadoes, even yet, and we suggest that tornado warnings be given complete respect by all citizens in the next 75 days.

Congress Objects to Raising the Salary of Postal Workers

Congress objects to paying postal workers more money.

Congress looks at the growing deficit in postal operations and asks why this office continues running in the red in spite of all that can be done to save this deficit.

So long as people want, need and use certain facilities, the postoffice will continue losing money.

Weekly newspapers are distributed free of charge in the county of their publication. This is a service which all persons want and need. Subscription prices would soar if and when this service was discontinued.

The government loses nearly 200 million dollars annually on operation of its rural routes. Yet who would open his mouth about this service.

Large armies of men are required to deliver mail to city patrons, yet few will object to this service.

In no other nation on the face of the globe is postage so low as in America. In no other nation do we have such a uniform system of mail service as in America.

Yet it costs money; and the Congress says that we cannot afford any more money for the people who are responsible for the efficiency of the postal service.

Grover Cleveland Was Great Man, Says Republican Taft

Grover Cleveland was the first Democrat to be elected President of this nation following the Civil War. The nation celebrates his birthday this month.

He was an effective leader. He was once elected; defeated for a second term, and was then elected. He was the first Democrat to oppose free silver of William Jennings Bryan.

When he left the President's office he thought that he was the most unpopular man in America.

William Howard Taft, Republican, said of Cleveland: "... He was a great President, not because he was a great lawyer, not because he was a brilliant orator, not because he was a statesman of profound learning, but because he was a patriot with the highest sense of public duty because he was a statesman of clear perception, of utmost courage of his convictions, and of great plainness of speech, because he was a man of high character, father and husband of the best type ..."

Give Away Plants Seems to Be the Order of the Day

It has been only 10 years since World War II ended.

We said then: "Never again."

Yet here we are getting ready for World War III. We shall need all of the synthetic rubber plants; all of the camp sites; all of the war equipment which we can get our hands on.

Uncle Sam has thrown billions of dollars to the wind, in a sad attempt to buy good will throughout the world.

Everytime we have tried to help a nation we have lost a friend. We cannot buy the friendship of the world, but our government has not discovered this fact.

Keep the war plants; keep the war equipment; keep the training fields, which we have not already given away. We shall need all of this equipment some day.

Guaranteed Wages Justified Now Under Present Prices

It would be fine if some good fairy would guarantee that all newspaper folks would get so much money per week, or month, or year. But we are not foolish enough to believe that this will ever come about.

General Motors denies the dedication of CIO that the workers be guaranteed a steady wage whether the factory makes a dime or even would go in the hole.

The average pay of all manufacturing plants of the nation is $1.81 per hour; CIO draws $2.27 per hour from General Motors.

So long as the people of America will continue buying cars, it makes no difference how high prices go, according to CIO.

So long as GM continues to make more money than ever before in history, the company officials will have no kick at guaranteed wages and higher wages. What will happen when the goose which laid the golden egg dries up and the people refuse to buy more eggs is a different story!

President Eisenhower, the polls show, is still very popular. We think that is because of his restraint, in both the foreign and domestic fields, and his efforts to be reasonable to all.

Pretty faces and figures activate a lot of dormant foolishness.

Senator McClellan Was Little Late Discovering Peress Case

Sen. John L. McClellan (D., Ark.), chairman of the Senate investigating committee, seems to have suddenly developed a great interest in the Peress case. McClellan has been doing a lot of talking about finding out who promoted Maj. Irving Peress after the New York dentist's Communist connections were known, who discharged him and whether the army mishandled the case.

It makes one wonder whether McClellan was asleep last year, when all of the uproar growing out of the Peress case caused a lengthy Senate hearing which was televised nationally. That hearing took up valuable time of many senators and cost the taxpayers a lot of money. The whole thing might have been avoided if Sen. McClellan had shown the same zeal then that he is showing now.

From his public statements and his television appearances at the time, the public somehow got the impression that McClellan was sympathetic toward the army. Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker and possibly Peress himself. Certainly, McClellan did everything in his power to impede the investigation that was going on last year in the same case.

One wonders about the change in McClellan. Could it be because he is now chairman of the investigating committee, the Democrats are in control of the Senate and he sees an opportunity to make some political capital for the Democrats in general and himself personally?

The public wants the facts in the Peress case, regardless of who is to blame. But the public wanted the facts last year and no doubt could have had them if Sen. McClellan had developed his zeal a little earlier.

Democrats Raise Question of Religion in Case of President

Those Democrats who are making light at the religious tendencies of President Eisenhower should know that they are playing with fire.

It has developed in Congress that no one can be from the opposing political party without becoming a scoundrel, traitor, and hypocrite.

We are unaccustomed to hearing a President utter a word of prayer as he took over the reins of a great nation. President Eisenhower stood before the vast audience, unafraid and unashamed that he recognized a superior being, the God of man and the God of love and expressed his complete devotion to that God.

His voice was raised time and again against the hypocrisy of men as they sought to ridicule his God. Even Senator Joe McCarthy, a devout Catholic, and opponent of the President, defends the right of the President to worship God as he sees fit.

If this is to be a Democratic slogan in 1956, it will fall flat on its face, and should fall.

No man has the right to denounce another who is living a righteous life, and who is following the God whom he worships.

Put Your Money to Work in Own Backyard, and Not Away

We have no quarrel to pick with those persons who think it is the smart thing to send their money to far away places for investment.

So far as we are concerned, Randall county offers all of the opportunities that any foreigner can offer. We have been offered fabulous chances for investment during the past week.

A Houston corporation has its agents in the field seeking out men who are reputed to have a little money.

A bond salesman took up too much time the other day trying to sell us his wares.

Various gadgets, plans and schemes have been presented in recent months, all trying to extract a little coin of the realm.

If you have some money to invest and want to place it in Randall county, why not look around you. The pasture is not so green in Randall county as it is in Houston or Chicago or New York, but it is a whole lot safer.

Stupid Move on Part of News Workers Closes Daily Paper

Just how stupid can men become!

In case, we have the Brooklyn Eagle. The daily newspaper was 114 years old. The management was able to pay a fair return to its stockholders and paid above average wages.

All went fine until the unions decided that they must draw the same wages as the New York printers. The American Newspaper Guild decided that they must have more money, the same as paid New York papers.

Rather than continue fighting a losing game, the management decided to sell the equipment and call it quits. The magic name of Walt Whitman, once the editor of the Eagle, did not melt the hearts of stone.

Now 600 employees are out looking for jobs. Smart bunch, they turned out to be.

Small Circle of Friends For All Individuals Is the Rule

A noted minister of the Panhandle made this observation:

"Most of us think that we have large circles of friends. We like to talk and boast about all that our friends will do for us. Yet, the best known man in this area, the best respected man, the brainiest man can count on the fingers of his two hands his really close friends—the persons to whom he will turn in time of need, and with whom he feels completely at home at all times and under all conditions."

Think it over, the next time that you start bragging about the number of persons whom you know and that are your very best friends.

There are always a few "wheels" in every community ready to lead an organized effort of any kind in any direction, if followers are available.

Many women fail to find satisfaction in life because they do not devote their energies to being good homemakers and mothers.

If you are having trouble with money, leave some of it at the church, where there is also a problem.

In spite of all we can do, abnormally warm days produce most severe spring fever attacks about now.

PARLAYS RELIEF CHECKS

Denver, Colo. — Fred F. Gilbert, 66, whose general assistance pension averaged $30 a month for 15 years, died recently of pneumonia. It was found that the 66-year-old night watchman had parlayed his relief checks into a $16,000 estate through oil-stock speculations. Administrators of his estate were ordered to return $5,675 to the Denver Welfare Department.

MEANT HIS SPEECH

Fayetteville, N. C. — While Mayor George Herndon was addressing a group of auxiliary policemen on law and enforcement, a messenger interrupted to advise him that an armed bandit had robbed the Mayor's music store of $40. The Mayor completed his address with greater earnestness and enthusiasm.

CRIPPLE ATTACKED

Rochester, N. Y. — Harold Breining, 46, is being held by police charged with striking a 54-year-old cripple over the head with a hammer, robbing him of $30 and then stealing his crutches to pawn them. The cripple, Robert Dorsey, bleeding from head wounds, crawled two blocks to a restaurant for help and was taken to a hospital.

It were an injury and sullenness against nature not to go out and see her riches, and partake in her rejoicing. —John Milton.

LONG WAIT

The pompous stranger stalked into the office and demanded to see the manager.

"I'm sorry, but he's not here," replied the secretary. "Is there anything I can do?"

"No," snapped the visitor. "I never deal with subordinates. I'll wait until the manager returns."

"Very well, take a seat," said the secretary, and went on with her work.

About an hour later the man got impatient.

"How much longer do you think the manager will be?" he demanded.

"Oh, about two weeks," was the calm reply. "He started his vacation yesterday."

THEY'LL KNOW

Discussing his epitaph, Sir John Strange said. "I want no fuss, nothing fancy, I simply want these words on my stone: 'Here lies a lawyer who always spoke the truth.'"

"But," a friend protested, "no one will know who rests there."

"Oh, yes, they will know," Sir John replied. "All who read will say, 'That's strange!'"

NASTY!

The bachelor was paying a visit to the house of a friend, a married man, and found himself rather bored by all the talk about the son and heir of the house.

"Just fancy," said the adoring mother, "he's only 17 months old and he's been walking for nearly nine months."

"Really!" said the visitor wearily. "don't you think it's about time he sat down?"

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

Industrial production in the United States is rising fast. The steel industry was operating at 92.7 per cent of capacity early in March, compared with 74.3 per cent in February, 1954. Auto production is at the record rate of 8,000,000 a year. Auto sales in January and February were 43 per cent ahead of the corresponding months of 1954, but a market glut or seasonal production cutback later in the year is likely.

H-BOMB RAID FUND

President Eisenhower has asked Congress for an emergency $12,000,000 appropriation to develop plans for evacuating, shelters, and other ways to meet a hydrogen bomb attack.

WILD CAR KILLS FOUR

Buffalo, N. Y. — Iris Ascanazy, 7, died in a hospital of injuries received four days before when a rampaging automobile jumped a curb and struck down a group of young girls strolling home from school. Three of the children were killed instantly and Iris died without gaining consciousness. A fifth girl, Betty Scheuer, 11, is in critical condition. The driver of the car told police he "blacked out" just before the accident and lost control of his car.

A BUYING NEED

A new motor car gadget has been placed on the market, a light sign fixed to the rear of the car which flashes the words, "Thank you" to a motorist who has courteously given way to you.

While giving approval to this charming idea, I feel that a signal should also be possible to deal with other circumstances. For example, "Blast your ears, haven't you heard me hooting at you for the last ten minutes?"

COELACANTH CAUGHT

Paris — What is believed to be the first full-grown female coelacanth — the fish that has come down virtually unchanged from prehistoric ages — was recently caught off Anjouan Island of the Comores group in the Indian Ocean. The 67-inch-long specimen, complete with 60 eggs, was delivered in perfect condition to scientists at Tannarive, capital of Madagascar.

GAME HUNT

After the visitor had talked all evening about the size and fierceness of the mosquitoes, the old Southerner was becoming much annoyed.

"Just look at 'em swarm," the guest complained. "Why don't you screen this porch?"

"That suh," the old man replied, would be unsportsmanlike. We use mouse traps."

BUT SILENCED

In a Pacific landing during the war, the colonel rushed up just as the unloading net ripped and dumped an avalanche of duffle bags from the transport.

"Does the sergeant know about this?" he demanded.

"He ought to, sir," a private replied. "He's under 'em."

WORLD TRADE SETUP

The Administration plans to ask Congress to approve United States entry into a new, permanent international organization aimed at lowering world trade barriers. A blueprint for the new body, to be called the Organization for Trade Co-operation, has been drawn up by 44 nations at Geneva. These nations handle 80 per cent of world trade.

CONSIDERATE HUSBAND

"I never mean to do her any harm," Spellman told the judge, "and I was the first to pull her out."

The judge said: "You must not go shoving Mrs. — into the canal every time she takes her dog for a walk."

"Oh no, sir," said Spellman indignantly. "I wouldn't see the dog drown."

TOO FAST

An excited woman threw a faded apron on the counter in a shop.

"Look at this!" she cried, "Look at it!"

"I'm looking at it," said the assistant. "What about it?"

"What about it?" shouted the woman. "Why, when you sold me that apron you said its color was fast. And look what happened. The color came out at the first washing."

"Well," answered the girl, looking somewhat surprised, "wasn't that fast enough?"

SNAKE DANCER DIES

Baltimore, Md. — "Princess Naja" died in an iron lung in a local hospital, where she was rushed after having been bitten by one of the cobras she used in her act at a night club. The 25-year-old dancer was bitten on the arm during the show but completed her performance and put the reptile back in its box before asking for help. The eight-minute-lapse in seeking aid is believed to have been responsible for her death.

Misses Peggy Graham and Rachael Smith registered the guests. Miss Elaine presided at the silver coffee service. Pink carnation and blue daisies in an epergne mounted with a miniature bride and groom centered the pink draped serving table from which cookies, nuts and wedding bell open sandwiches were served with coffee.

A gift from the hostess to the honoree was a steam-dryer iron. Approximately 100 friends in Hereford called at the home of Mrs. B. E. Roberson on Thursday afternoon, March 31, when Hereford friends of the groom-to-be honored his fiancée with a miscellaneous shower.

Gift of the hostesses to the honoree was a Mixmaster.

Mrs. Roberson, Mrs. Graham, Miss Smith, and her mother formed the receiving line.

Pink net over white linen draped the serving table which was centered with a miniature bride and two bridesmaids. The tiny bride was mounting a stairway and holding her bouquet of ruffled stock ready to throw it to be caught by a bridesmaid.

Misses Peggy Graham and Rachael Smith registered the guests.

Beef Producers Attempt to Breed For Production

Dr. M. R. Calliham talked at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on beef production in the nation.

The work of breeding for greater beef production is in progress right here in the Panhandle. Work was started at PanTech Farms near Amarillo.

Dr. Calliham predicted that the organization which had been formed would soon be of national, or international scope. It follows the example of many other organizations set up by breeders of other animals.

Animals are weighed at weaning time; and again when the animal is ready for the feed lot. Sires and dams are credited with their production. The payoff comes when feeders offer to buy animals which are then certified at a premium price. This price ranges from 2c to 5c per pound.

The advantages of the organization is higher price to the producers; extra price per pound for the meat; in which the packer and consumer both benefit.

Beef producers keep records; are aware of the benefits of soil conservation; practice better feeding and management practices; are always ready to give production of cattle.

The meat of animals is better when under strict supervision, stated Dr. Calliham. Rapid growth is always superior to slow growth, as the experts have ascertained.

Visitors were Joe Crume and Harry Hungate, Junior Rotarians; G. W. Webb, Wilbur McCarty, Joe Findley, Clark Jarnagin, all of Canyon; Bob Lindsey of Borger; Joe Crume, Tom Cartwright, Thurman Whittis, Roy Poole, E. Kancher, John Oakes, Faris C. Oden, J. H. Harrison, R. T. Alexander, J. J. Sanders, Charles Myers, Emil F. Myers, Arthur Blum, all of Amarillo.

Registration fees are $10, or $3 per day. Rooms are available in the college dormitories, and meals are served at the college cafeteria. Lectures, discussion groups, demonstrations, exhibits, and recreation are planned during the conference.

Joe Bailey Writes For Iowa Journal

Diaries of a pioneer couple on a trek from Illinois to western Iowa in 1849 have been edited for an article appearing in the April issue of "Annals of Iowa," by Joe H. Bailey, librarian at West Texas State College.

Related in the journals of Laura A. and Julius Barnes, is the story of a family attempting the overland route to Oregon, but who settled near the mouth of the Platte River in Iowa after a 500-mile, months long trip.

The Barnes couple were the great grandfather and grandmother of Mrs. Bailey, and the journals were handed down to the author's wife.

To The Honorable Commissioners' Court of Randall County, Texas, and the Honorable District Judge of the 47th Judicial District, Canyon, Texas.

Gentlemen:

In accordance with my duties as County Auditor of Randall County, I have prepared the attached report of the financial operations of Randall County for the year, 1954, and the condition of the funds at December 31, 1954, and present the attached report, which in my opinion reflects in a fair manner such operations and condition.

The duties of the County Auditor are (1) to supervise the financial record keeping of the County Treasurer and all of the Fee Officers and recommend needed systems and procedures pertaining to such records; (2) to audit continuously these records for their effectiveness and accuracy; (3) to make reports to the Commissioners' Court at regular intervals, or as requested, upon any of the financial matters of the County; (4) to approve for payment bills of the County when legally incurred and when in accordance with the approved budget for the year; (5) to maintain records pertaining to county property that will help safeguard such property; and, (6) to consult with the Commissioners' Court and Fee Officers on any matter pertaining to the financial affairs of the County, and advise the procedure or improvement in these matters.

In addition, an aim of this County Auditor is to impress upon the Commissioners' Court the importance of the budget as the primary element of controlling county expenditures. A more careful study of budget requirements, and advance planning would facilitate planned operations, and would be in line with governmental management and financing.

This report shows a total cash balance in the County Treasurer's funds at December 31, 1954, including cash held in escrow for the 1955 budget of $365,337.87 compared to $303,915.08 at the close of 1953. Total expenditures for 1954 were $337,057.98 compared to $333,704.25 expended during 1953. Total revenue and other receipts available for operations increased $144,719.94 as shown by the report. This increase however, is due to the practice started in 1953 of holding fall tax collections until January 1 before distributing them to the funds.

In the auditing of fee officers, any shortages or discrepancies noted during the year are discussed with the officials and if correction is made no exception is shown in the fee officers' report. No such exceptions occurred in this report.

The analysis and schedules cover the financial affairs of the county to the extent we thought practical and advisable to report.

It is assumed by the auditor that the Commissioners' Court accepted the affidavit of M. E. Cantrell in lieu of payment of the amounts which had been charged to him by independent auditors in 1950, 1951, and 1952.

I wish to thank the County Officials and employees for their co-operation and courtesies extended to the County Auditor.

Sincerely yours,
E. T. Cummings
Randall County Auditor

Note: The complete report is on file in the offices of the County and may be examined by anyone interested. The following excerpt is prepared by the Auditor for publication.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

Baltimore, Md. — While Cecil McClung, a wheelchair invalid, was enjoying the recent spring-like weather and chatting with a neighbor in his backyard, Mr. McClung's 15-year-old son got into the family car, parked in the yard, and was feeling around behind the wheel when the car started forward. The auto knocked Mr. McClung from his chair and hit Mrs. Hobbs, the neighbor. Both were taken to a hospital — Mrs. Hobbs treated for a lacerated foot and bruises, while McClung suffered a possible fractured hip and internal injuries.

SOUNDS BETTER

This one from Britain: A voluble but h-lent counsel was addressing the jury. "Gentlemen," he said, "this accident to my client's little 'orse will ruin 'im! The plaintiff's all is in 'is little 'orse!" The judge, upon whose sensitive ear these constant and unspirited allusions had grated, could restrain himself no longer. "Don't you think, Mr. Blank," he interjected, "that at this stage of the case we might refer to it as a pony?"

COMIC BOOK CLEANUP

Charles F. Murphy, the "Czar" of the comic book industry, feels that considerable progress has been made in the past five months to clean up the books. ### MAKE MONEY IN JAIL

Washington. — A prison is certainly one of the last places you would expect to find a counterfeiting plant, but Secret Service officials have turned up two of them — one in a New Jersey State prison, where six counterfeit $1 plates were found, and in Mexico City, where a notorious bogus-money maker was caught printing money on a portable press in his cell.

IMPERIAL CHEVROLET COMPANY

Texas was beautifully represented last week at the annual Washington Cherry Blossom Festival by Miss Anne Blalock of Marshall. She was chosen by the Texas State Society as a princess in the royal court composed of charming young ladies from most of the states in the union. Anne, a co-ed at the University of Texas, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blalock of Marshall. She was accompanied to Washington by her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Myron Blalock, whose late husband was one of our State's most distinguished citizens and served for many years as Texas Democratic National Committeeman.

Davy Crockett

Another distinguished Texan in our midst last week was Fess Parker, star of Walt Disney's TV production, "Davy Crockett, King of the Wild Frontier." He was born in Fort Worth and lived in San Angelo and Brownwood before graduating from the University of Texas. Members of Congress from Texas and Tennessee attended a luncheon at the Capitol in his honor, and several of us interviewed him on radio and television.

Standing 6 feet 5 inches, Fess Parker towered above all his hosts and visitors both at the Capitol and at the meetings of the National Rifle Association which he attended during his visit here. He wore his coonskin cap and buckskin clothes and carried "Ole Betty" with him on all occasions. A replica of the famous David Crockett rifle was presented to the Deputy Secretary of Defense, Bob Anderson. It is entirely fitting that a Texan was chosen by Walt Disney to portray David Crockett in both his television series and the Davy Crockett movie which will be released in our State in June.

Grain Producers

Many Texans were in Washington last week advocating higher grain sorghum support prices by the Department of Agriculture and attending the annual meeting of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives. We are convinced that the present parity support fixed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson on grain sorghum is unfair to the producers of this important crop, and have indicated our views to the Secretary and the President. Texans representing the grain producers here were R. G. Peeler, Hereford; Leo Wilkowski, Happy; John Venneman, Spearman; Gabe Anderson, Bovina; John Pittman, Hereford; and W. M. Sherley, Lubbock.

Texas attending the grain co-op meeting included Frank Triplett, Oscar Applequist and Kenneth Lloyd, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Mayhugh, Edmondson; President and Mrs. Lloyd Neumann of Sinton; Mr. and Mrs. Truman Miller, Willard; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, Tulsa; J. Burton Craig, Plainview; H. T. Cole, Quanah; and Horace Smith, Miami.

Victory For Texas School Fund

The Texas Supreme Court's decision last week in favor of the State in the lawsuit against The Texas Company, involving ownership of minerals in Duval County, should mean several millions of dollars for our permanent school fund. The decision was particularly pleasing to the writer and to my administrative assistant here in Washington. Jake Jacobsen, because along with Charles D. Mathews of Austin, we made the decision to file this suit while serving in the Attorney General's office in Austin. In fact, it was the last case prepared for trial under my administration as Attorney General, and Mr. Mathews continued to assist Attorney General Shepherd in the trial and appeals which followed.

It was our contention, and the courts have now agreed, that a mineral deed made by the Duval Ranch and Cattle Company to The Texas Company on 4,000 acres of minerals in Duval County was void, and that the minerals and 67 producing oil wells actually belong to the State and its public school fund. Nearly a million in cash was also awarded to the State, and further production on this property should be an important source of revenue for our public schools.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McReynolds this week are their daughters and their families. Lt. (j.g.) and Mrs. Don Patterson of San Diego, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heare and children of Miami.

Miss Dorothy Neblett, a student at Lindenwood College, is at home for the Easter vacation.

When a friend has trouble — either at home or as the silent partner in her spouse's business — how do you take it?

Do you leave her alone, saying to yourself, "She'd probably rather not see people for awhile." Then, as the days go by and you find it harder and harder to act natural with her, you allow a little estrangement to grow up.

Do you dash right over, while the embarrassment is still new, before she has time to get her poise back? Do you encourage an unwilling discussion of the whole thing? Then, maybe, become the "authority" on the subject in all the gab sessions for the next few weeks?

Do you send her flowers, or bake a cake, or send a little gift as silent token of your sympathy? Or do you try to be with her as naturally as possible, talking of other things and not even mentioning the family trouble unless she brings it up?

If you've never had any such awkward chapters in your own family story, it may be hard to decide just what course to follow. But if you've been there it isn't hard to "put the shoe on the other foot."

Some women know instinctively what to do. And maybe the right thing will be different with each friend, depending on how close you are, the disposition of the woman who is on the spot, and the seriousness of the "spot." But if you're sincere, and fair, chances are ten to one your offer of friendship — in whatever form you make it — won't be misunderstood.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Doak and children of Lubbock spent the weekend with his grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Myers, who accompanied them as far as Plainview on their return home. Mrs. A. D. Price brought her mother home from Plainview Monday.

Miss Johnny Courtney returned home today from Roxton where she has spent two weeks in the home of her nephew, The Rev. A. Bailey Duncan, helping to tend Mrs. Duncan, who is recovering satisfactorily from a serious major operation.

Cars Kill More Kids Than Cancer

"All the care on earth cannot equal one child's worth." In these words, E. C. McFadden of Dallas, vice-president, Employers' Casualty Company and president of the Texas Safety Association, stressed the importance of child safety as he urged local citizens to do everything possible to safeguard children in traffic.

Mr. McFadden was speaking in connection with the child pedestrian and bicycle safety program being sponsored in Texas this month by the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

"All of us have a moral responsibility to keep children safe," he said, "and traffic is so potent a danger to youngsters that it will take all of us to do the job."

"Traffic is the number one killer of children 1 to 14 years old in this country," Mr. McFadden said. "According to National Safety Council statistics, traffic accidents cause more deaths to youngsters in this age group than any of the well-known diseases such as polio, tuberculosis, pneumonia, cancer and rheumatic fever," he said.

In 1952, the most recent year for which complete figures are available, motor vehicle accidents were responsible, in the 1 to 14 age group, for more than four times as many deaths as tuberculosis, and nearly three times as many deaths as polio, Mr. McFadden pointed out.

"The disease with the greatest 1952 fatality record for youngsters was cancer," he said, "yet 600 fewer children 1 to 14 years old died of cancer than died in traffic accidents."

Mr. McFadden named four groups as having specific jobs to do in the field of child traffic safety—motorists, parents, schools and children themselves.

"Schools are doing a fine job of teaching children safety," he said, "and youngsters do try to follow the safety rules they learn. But children don't have mature judgment, and their attention wanders — at such times their actions are unpredictable."

"Parents, and all adults, must set children a good example as pedestrians," he said. And he cautioned motorists to be on the alert for children constantly, and especially near schools and playgrounds.

BAILEY SEES RARE CRANES

While at Corpus Christi last week, Joe H. Bailey, the college librarian, had the unusual good fortune of seeing two Whooping Cranes, a part of the only small flock now surviving. Part of the flock had already left the coast for their breeding grounds in the far north.

Said Mr. Bailey, "With binoculars we were able to see the great white birds distinctly, and watched them for some time."

Mr. Bailey is president of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Audubon Society, which meets alternately in Amarillo and at the Panhandle-Plains Museum, and which has frequent field trips in the region.

Dr. and Mrs. Crannell Tolliver and Brian left Saturday afternoon for Memphis, Tenn., where Dr. Tolliver is attending the annual convention of the Southern Speech Association meeting in the Peabody Hotel this week. They went by way of the University of Arkansas and the University of Kentucky to visit several new Fine Arts buildings on the way. They will return Monday.

Mrs. J. C. Dowd is visiting her daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Helmick. Rev. Helmick has been pastor of the First Baptist Church of Yukon, Okla., and is moving to Spiro, Okla., to be pastor of the First Baptist Church in Spiro.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. W. H. Lewis over the week-end were Mrs. L. M. Yearout, W. P. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Williams and daughter, Leslie, all of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Lt. and Mrs. Jess Bewley and family of Ft. Riley, Kansas, have been visiting since Wednesday in the homes of relatives in this vicinity. They return home tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hufnagle and family moved Saturday to their new home on their farm southwest of Canyon. Mr. Hufnagle did most of the work himself.

Elmo Roper, public opinion analyst, "Neglect of breakfast by teenage girls is the single most dangerous spot in the American nutritional picture today."

Edward L. Feder, professor, University of California, after study of comic book readers: "If you read comic books, it isn't necessarily a sign that you are lowbrow."

29th Year

I Speak Again

I am the eagle of Canyon High School. Once before I spoke to you through an editorial such as this. My previous speech was reminding, but this time it is full of congratulations.

Yes, congratulations to you, the student body, for the excellent manner in which you have conducted yourself in assemblies throughout the year. The interest, patience, and tolerance shown are admirable.

In the display of interest you not only help yourselves to benefit but help those presenting the program. One usually performs better and is often inspired by an audience composed of eager and friendly faces. Those giving the Southern Assembly programs have all thanked the students warmly for their attention. If the programs have seemed interesting perhaps it is because of the receptive part you play.

I am sure all of the students did not completely enjoy some of the assemblies, and enthusiasm was a bit inanimate. With eagle ears and eyes I watched and listened, but I saw no sign of forward displeasure. Instead I found an atmosphere of patience and tolerance, two qualities so needed in our world today.

Congratulations again to a fine student body.

Student of the Week

You will usually find these CHS students with a bag of clubs putting around on the County Club golf green.

Al Myers, CHS golf team member and member of this year's senior class, participates in band as drum major during marching season, and plays the baritone sax in concert. Al has served as president of the CCYC this year, and in the future intends to enter the field of business training.

Larry Lynn Hungate, an active member of FFA, works with the local chapter on the leadership and judging teams and the area of radio broadcasting. Larry is a member of band, National Honor Society, choir and ensemble. His hobbies are golf and baseball. Larry intends to enter the field of business and law, and thinks he will study at West Texas.

The voice of Billy Partridge may some day be coming over your radio. Radio announcing is the chosen vocation of Billy, the third senior for the week. Oil painting is his hobby which he developed besides playing on the CHS golf team this year and on the football squad in 1953. Billy intends to begin his college career by studying at WT.

Science Classes Visit Hospital

In order to get a first hand view of the functions of a hospital and the training of nurses, the chemistry and physics classes toured the North West Texas Hospital April 1.

The first visit was to the nurses dormitory where films entitled "Opportunities for Nurses" and "Medical Technologist" were seen. The nurses extended their hospitality with cookies and punch afterwards.

Touring the X-ray department, the students received a brief impression of the technical work involved. Of special interest was the X-ray developing room.

Other departments inspected were the pediatrics, treatment rooms, and physiotherapy.

Student's questions dealing largely with training and pay in different phases of the medical field were answered by the hospital staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Findley sponsored the trip.

Leake Enters Queen Contest

Virginia Leake, CHS Spanish Queen, entered in the Reina de Espanol contest in the Lubbock Llano Estacado Fiesta Saturday, April 2. Arrayed in her China poblana, national Mexican costume, Virginia and her escort, Charles Joyner, furnished plenty of competition on the royal court.

Students Whirl In Fiesta Gaiety

"In the streets see them whirl, Spanish boy, dark-eyed girl." Whirling in the splendor of the eighth annual Llano Estacado Fiesta were the CHS Spanish Club members and sponsors. The colorful fiesta took place Saturday in the Lubbock High School at Lubbock.

Taking part in the contests were Ray Dean Green, art; Faye Lowrey, leather craft; and Jeanne Thomas and Faye Lowrey, Spanish food cooking. Virginia Leake, Spanish Queen of CHS, took part in the Reina's contest.

At 2:30 p. m. the Queen coronation began. After the royal court presentation, the queen was announced and crowned.

Following the coronation, the contest winners performed as a part of the program. Then, the winners received their awards, consisting of first, second, third, and honorable mention ribbons.

Faye Lowrey was the only Canyon contestant placing. In the cooking division she was awarded first place for her Mexican style chicken and Mexican omelet. In leathercraft she was a third place winner.

The Spanish Club sold book markers and ink blotters in the mercado, market. The gay mercado was in the patio of Lubbock High School. In the mercado the booths were representative of those of Mexico.

Sponsors for the trip were Miss Marilyn A. Payne, Mrs. Iverson Leake, Mrs. R. E. Marshall, Mrs. J. F. Marshall, and Mrs. Charles Joyner.

The fiesta was sponsored by the Llano Estacado Chapter of the American Association of Spanish and Portuguese Teachers.

Bass horn soloist, Bonnell Riley, and clarinet soloist Pat Hardaway earned division II in the Class II solo division. The woodwind trio, Joe Dickerson, oboe; Maxine Greene, flute; and Betty Burrus, bassoon, earned division III for their Class II entry.

The members of the Brass Quartet, Berny Woodward, cornet; Brian Tolliver, cornet; Glenn Rusk, baritone; and David Miller, French horn, will get silver medals, and David will get a gold medal for his solo. Pat and Bonnell will receive certificates for their second divisions.

Track, Volleyball Toil in Tourneys

Girls A and B squads skirmished with Plainview and Phillips last Monday and Tuesday, March 28-29.

Winning two of the nine matches the A squad girls dumped Plainview 15-9 and 15-12. Phillips scouted the Canyon teams for four straight victories.

Saturday at Plainview brought two wins to Phillips over Canyon, two wins to Canyon over Anton, and two B squad losses to Plainview.

A 13 1/4 point collection bought Canyon a fourth place bid in the Panhandle Relays, April 2.

Don Lundengreen, Canyon senior, tossed the shot 52 feet and 7 1/2 inches, smashing 7 feet 2 1/2 inches farther than the previous record-holder. Melvin Cunningham held a position in a four-way tie for third place and Charles Neblett rounded out a third in 120 yard high hurdles and a second in 180 yard low hurdles. Harlie Adams galloped the 880 yard run for a second place.

Other boys entering the meet were Roland O'Donald, R. A. Burgess, Richard Burgess, Elston Burkham.

Dorothy Neblett Slated To Speak At CCYC Easter Sunrise Service

DOROTHY NEBLETT

The annual CCYC Easter sunrise service will be held at the WTSC stadium about 30 minutes preceding the breaking of the sun in the east.

Miss Dorothy Neblett, a graduate of Canyon High School and now a freshman student at Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., will be the speaker. Active in Christian service and as a class member, Dorothy is Faith chairman of the Student Christian Association under which office she gives three devotionals a week over the radio. She is also a class

Virginia Leake, an outstanding Spanish Club member and CHS Spanish Queen, was escorted by Charles Joyner in the colorful Llano Estacado Fiesta royal court presentation and coronation.

The coronation began at 2:30 in the Tom S. Lubbock High School.

The reigning title candidates were judged on overall appearance, personality, costume, and poise.

Arrayed in a colorful china poblana, National Mexican ladies dress, Virginia furnished plenty of competition for the high honor. The falda, skirt, of the china poblana was made of red, gay floral print with gold sequins splashed over the floral portion. The blusa, blouse, shows unique handwork with a floral design embroidered around the opening of the neck. On her head Virginia wore a Mexican sombrero, hat, decorated with small roses on the brim.

Charles wore jet black pants and Spanish jacket set off with a brilliant red fajo, sash. He also wore a Mexican sombrero to add to the fiesta flavor.

A girl of many talents, Virginia has been treasurer of the Spanish Club for the past two years and has received the English award twice. Previously, she has been FTA and FHA reporter and secretary. Virginia is also a member of NHS, girls ensemble, and charity and worthy associate advisor of Rainbows. Recently she has completed her state FHA degree and placed second and third in a piano contest festival.

Banquet Staged By Band Parents

Dining and dancing seems like fun. The band members experienced this romantic life Friday, April 1, in the cafeteria and gym.

The banquet began at 7 p. m. with David Miller as master of ceremonies. J. E. Miller, high school principal, gave the invocation followed by the welcome by Miss Ruth Cross, Band Parents club president. David introduced Norris Samuelson, band president, who gave the response.

After eating the steak meal prepared by the band members' mothers, group singing was lead by Emma Coleman accompanied by Mrs. Herman Demus.

Outstanding feature of the banquet was the guest speaker, Miss Jean Chapman, exchange student from England.

Dr. Crannell Tolliver was in charge of the successful program and Mrs. Tolliver planned the menu with Mrs. Brown preparing the delicious food. Ornaments and decorations were prepared by Mrs. Roger Whealey.

Officers of the Band Parents Club are Miss Ruth Cross, president; Mrs. Otto Samuelson, vice-president; Mrs. Crannell Tolliver, secretary; and Mrs. O. L. Coleman, treasurer.

Sponsors for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Demus and band parents.

The U. S. sets talks with the Swiss on tariff concessions.

Walker, Shepard Get Scholarships

Virginia Walker and Barbara Shepard have been awarded $75 scholarships to the Midwestern Music and Art Camp on the campus of the University of Kansas at Lawrence. The scholarships will be used toward the $275 tuition.

These scholarships are offered to the two students in recognition of their outstanding ability shown in the state art contest at Fort Worth last January.

Virginia received the Gold Key award and received first place in the pottery division of the state contest. Her piece went to national contest in Pittsburgh to be exhibited in national competition. The "Madonna and Child," Virginia's article, is six inches tall and is finished with an ivory glaze.

Barbara received the first place award in the regional pottery division at the state contest. Her "Pioneer Woman and Children" is approximately seven inches tall and is finished in ivory glaze. This composition is of a pioneer woman washing the ears of one child while another is clinging to her skirts.

The University of Kansas has long been known and accepted as a center of art study. This school is especially interested in young people and offers many scholarships to high school students and graduates of outstanding ability. The college offers both summer camp and regular term scholarships. The summer camp offers courses in pottery, metal work, painting, and fashion design.

Did You Know That

The year 1887 brought the first form of formal education in Canyon. Not the symbolic little red school with the bell steeple, but a privately owned and operated school.

In 1889 further settlement became apparent and plans were drawn up for a three-room school to suit the educational needs for a growing community. Three years later work opportunities were at a low and the population fell off, causing a drop in the needs for a school. The building was never completed.

Girls married, and boys went to work, so there were no graduates until 1902. In 1902, one girl graduated, and in 1906 two girls graduated: one going on to teach.

An eight-room brick school was built in 1908. Five teachers were on full time salary. A private school was in operation during this period. It was held in the Victoria Hotel, located where the post office now stands.

One of the eight graduates of 1918 went to college. There were four girls and four boys in this class. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Newton Harrell and Burney Slack.

In 1923 the high school and grade school were completed. The first graduating class, the class of 1924, presented to the school a set of stage settings and the curtains. This class probably started the tradition of gifts to the school by the graduating class.

Colleys Present Magic Program

Which is faster, the hand or the eye? Mr. and Mrs. James Colley proved that the hand is as they astonished the students with their "Modern Mystic and Magic program" at the CHS assembly Monday morning, April 4, in the high school auditorium.

Students stared in amazement as Mr. Colley uncovered rabbits in out-of-way places, produced vivid bouquets by repeating magic words, and performed other unbelievable magical feats.

David Hawkins, Donnie Ford, Joan Payne, Reva Clay, Max Boswell and Teddy Fowler were selected from the audience to assist Mr. Colley with varied tricks.

Since 1920, Mr. and Mrs. Colley have been associated with Southern School assemblies, presenting programs from coast to coast. During the summer months, they televise a TV show for the DuMont network. They make their home in New Orleans, La.

Warwick's

Around the Town...

(By Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick)

These recent cold spells have reminded me of the much talked of party the Huffman's gave back in, as near as I can find out, about 1890.

Canyon was a very small town then.

There had been warm weather such as we had before the cold spells hit and the Huffman's decided to give a party out at their country home.

Mrs. B. C. Taylor is the only one I have been able to find who could tell me about this party.

Eight or nine couples went from Canyon, driving out together in a wagon. Several couples came from the surrounding country.

They had a violin and a guitar for those who wanted to dance and games were played all through the evening.

About midnight the Huffman's served a bounteous supper, Mrs. Taylor says. She remembers they had ham, chicken, deviled eggs, pickles, hot rolls, cake, pie and coffee, besides, as she said, "Lots of other things to eat." While they were eating a "norther" came and before they could get started home it was unsafe to start. Although the Huffman's only lived 12 miles out, that was too far for the young people to go in a storm like that one and in an open wagon. They decided to continue the party through the night.

By morning the drifts of snow were so high they did not dare to start and the storm was still raging. They stayed at the Huffman's the next day and that night.

Mrs. Huffman had plenty of covers, but not beds enough for such a crowd, so they brought in bales of hay and put it on the floors of two rooms and the boys slept in one room and the girls in another. There was about as much sleeping done as at a modern "slumber party."

They ran completely out of food. The only thing they didn't run out of was coffee.

By the second day the sun came out, the storm was over and early in the morning they started for Canyon. Mrs. Taylor says it took them until after 6 o'clock to drive that 12 miles to Canyon. They would no sooner get out of one drift than they were in another and they would all have to climb out of the wagon and help the horses get through or over the drifts.

They had four horses hitched to their wagon but even then Mrs. Taylor says the horses were exhausted when they got back to Canyon.

Well, we had plenty of cold weather but... no snow. It must be true, as so many old-timers say, "The weather just isn't as bad as it used to be."

And there is this about the weather written by Lee John Hutson, manager of the T-Anchor Ranch. This report on the weather is given in his accounts of the T-Anchor Ranch, and is to be found in the Panhandle-Plains Museum.

Nov. 16, 1889: "Weather: The snow storm of last week was followed by very cold, damp weather, which kept the snow on the ground for six days so that the cattle could get nothing to eat on the Plains during this time."

"The loss 100 miles N. W. has been very severe. A large number of cattle and sheep being dead, and five boys frozen to death while trying to hold a herd."

The Burrow Lumber Company has purchased the Gibbs house at 1209 7th Ave. and has sold the house to J. G. Batenhorst of Umbarger who is tearing it down and will use the lumber for building purposes on his farm. This location has three lots and the Burrow Lumber Company intends to use them for building purposes.

A little boy was being cautioned about losing things, the other day and he replied, "I don't lose things. I just can't find them."

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gamble have started their new home at 911 25th Street which will be a red brick trimmed in white with a living room, dining room, two bedrooms, bath, combined den and kitchen with a wood burning fireplace. Mr. Gamble is with the Brodie Construction Company of Amarillo. Mrs. Gamble is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Donnell who live west of Canyon. The Gambles have one daughter, Karen, 10 years old, and Karen and her little friends are having much fun watching the house go up.

"I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame."

These words of Job can be the words of everyone of us who seek to serve God through ministering to the needs of our fellow men. We can all help the crippled to walk, fight the dread disease of cancer, through the skill of physicians, surgeons, and hospitals.

These two drives are before us now. They only come once in every year. Only once a year are you asked to help relieve in the suffering of those who fight to live a normal life in spite of crippled plunging and those who lose their lives to cancer.

Physicians, surgeons, hospitals are all giving freely of their knowledge and time to relieve these diseases that cause suffering and disability. You are asked to give of your money to help in these noble causes. It is hoped that everyone will contribute what they can to help in this fight.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wright are building their new home at 2412 5th Ave. It is to be finished in American Beauty brick with white trim and a white roof. Mr. Wright is in the science department at WTSC. The Wrights have two little daughters, Becky, 5 years old, and Debby, 3 years old. The new house will have a living room, dining room, kitchen all in one large room in a U shape, which conceals the kitchen from the living room, three bedrooms, a bath and a half bath.

Mrs. Roy Byrd, Sr., returned from Temple Wednesday. She flew down for an examination and said they gave her a "clean bill of health," that she would have to build up her health, but could do that at home and to return in three weeks for another check-up. Mrs. Byrd said she is feeling fine and expects to be back to normal right away.

Mrs. Carl Anderson is much improved and hopes soon to be completely recovered from her recent surgery.

Mrs. Clay Cooper's drive for a "bigger and better" library for Canyon and Randall County got off to a nice start with her coffee Monday morning. There is not anything much better than a good book and the influence of good books is indescribable, they are helpful and enlightening. Good books should be given a prominent place in our lives. Addison said, "Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body." It is to be hoped everyone will get behind this important move that Mrs. Cooper has given so much thought to, and help her pass her goal of 500 old books and 500 new books for the library.

We as a nation are proud of our heritage and our achievements. Proud of the people who founded our nation and the principles upon which they built our way of life. They were God-fearing people, unafraid of danger or hardship. Seeking, not gold, but a way of life, free from want and religious persecution.

Today our nation of 160 million people has 294,359 churches—and 40,947 of these have been built since the end of World War II. In nine years our church membership has grown from 72,492,000 to 95,681,000—a gain of 23 million.

In countless other ways, there's evidence that the people of the United States are seeking spiritual faith in ever-growing numbers.

THERE IS COMFORT, REASSURANCE AND HOPE IN THIS COURSE THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE IS TAKING.

Congratulations to the schools of Umbarger. They were the first schools to send in their applications for the Salk vaccine for polio and they signed up 100%.

Mrs. Harvey Cash has returned after spending the winter with her daughter in San Antonio. Mrs. Laas is head of the counseling in Trinity University and her daughters, Francis, is a senior in Trinity and Dorothy is a sophomore. Mrs. Cash enjoyed her stay in San Antonio, especially the beautiful flowers and homes. She has been suffering from neuritis but hopes to be relieved soon.

The death of Colonel Robert Rutherford McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune and one of the most controversial journalists in America, is deeply regretted by many in Canyon.

He was to have spoken at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society at their meeting next month. Col. McCormick had lived on the Plains when he was 17 or 18 years old, punching cattle near where Hereford is now, and living in a dug-out. There was no town there when Col. McCormick lived in a dug-out and punched cattle in the early days. He was anxious to come back and although ill at the time he made the engagement he hoped he would be better and could make the address.

Mrs. D. A. Shirley has returned from her trip to New Orleans, Mobile, Natchez and Bellingrath Gardens. Mrs. Shirley and the party she was traveling with were delayed by the illness of her sister who is recovering, but was unable to take the trip with them. The party had planned to go on to Florida, but because of her sister's illness returned earlier. Mrs. Shirley found the old homes and plantations of the South as wonderful and beautiful as all who take this trip at this season when the Azaleas are in full bloom. She liked the gardens and the beautiful homes that are now open to the public and was delighted with the people who are striving to bring back the "Old Days" of the South, its customs and hospitality, its gracious way of life.

The West Texas State College Opera Workshop presented the two operas, "Sunday Excursion" by Alec Wilder and "Gianni Schicchi" by Giacomo Puccini, Thursday and Friday evenings under the direction of Royal Brantley. Mr. Brantley is instructor of voice at the college. The Brantley's moved to Canyon two years ago from Stephenville, Texas, with their two children, Johnny, 8 years old, and Susan, 5 years old. A third child, Julie, was born to them in December.

Mrs. Brantley played violin in the orchestra as did her sister, Mrs. Harold Long, of Dallas. Mrs. Long has played with the Brantley's both in Austin and Dallas, and was happy to come with her two children, Sharon, 4 years old, and Richard, 6 months old, to visit and to play in the orchestra with them again. Mrs. Brantley also did the art work on the posters and the programs for the opera.

Mr. Brantley says the Opera Workshop at West Texas State College exists primarily for reasons of student training and experience, but it is his wish that each year's effort will result in a rewarding and entertaining experience for the college and the community.

The presentation of these two operas was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended, with many coming from the surrounding towns.

Mrs. J. W. Horn celebrated her 84th birthday with a number of dinners and parties in her honor lasting from March 20th to March 30th. Her daughter, Mrs. J. T. Ethridge of Amarillo, gave a dinner party for the family of Mrs. Horn on March 20th in Amarillo at her home. On March 27th her family met with her in her home in Canyon for a dinner in her honor.

On March 29th Mrs. Horn entertained a few of her close friends,

Mrs. Felix Pierce, Mrs. J. A. Wiseman, Mrs. Augusta Hancock at a dinner in her home. On March 30th her neighbors surprised Mrs. Horn with a party in the afternoon bringing a birthday cake and climbing rose bushes to be set out in her yard that she might enjoy for many years to come. Present at this party were Mesdames J. W. Fain, Curtis Burkhalter, Max Brummet, H. A. Brown, Gene Root, Walter Williams, and Andre Alexander. After the party Mrs. Alexander's 16-year-old son, George, set the rose bushes out.

Mrs. Horn was born in Tate County, Mississippi. She and J. W. Horn were married in 1889 in Senatobia, Mississippi. They moved to Clayton, N. M., in 1905. Mr. Horn died in 1944. In 1931 Mrs. Horn moved to Canyon and has lived here ever since.

Mrs. Horn has seven living children, David Horn, who is owner of the West Texas Motor Co. in Canyon; Mrs. Earl Pickard of Amarillo; Mrs. J. T. Ethridge of Amarillo; Mrs. Sue Durham, San Angelo; Mrs. Jess Phillips, Ft. Worth; Mrs. Frank Walker, Johnson City; J. D. Horn of Saudi, Arabia, where he is associated with the American Arabian Oil Company. He is in Amarillo at present recuperating from surgery, but will return to Arabia in about two months.

She has 18 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. Her friends say she has a keen enjoyment of life, keeps up with current events, was one of the first in town to have a TV set and enjoys it thoroughly. She is able to do her housework, work in her yard and have her friends and family in for dinner.

Mrs. Horn is a member of the Christian Church, but is unable to attend regularly any more. Her family and friends hope she may enjoy many more birthdays.

"For by one spirit we were all baptized into one body—Jews or Greeks, slaves or free—and all were made to drink of one spirit." —1 Cor. 12:13.

Mrs. Newton Harrell Writes of Trip

Mrs. Newton Harrell gives us this very interesting account of their 16 day cruise of the Caribbean Islands. The Harrells live on their ranch out of Claude, and are world travelers. Mrs. Harrell keeps notes on their trips and writes most interesting accounts of their experiences. We are fortunate to share their trips with them in this way. Newton Harrell is the son of Mrs. Ed Harrell of Canyon and Mrs. Harrell is the daughter of Mrs. N. A. Croson, also of Canyon.

We sailed from Miami February 5th aboard the S. S. Silver Star, on a 16-day cruise to eight Caribbean Islands, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Antigua, Guadalupe, Martinique, Barbados, Trinidad, Curacao and Caracas, Venezuela.

Two of Newton's cousins, a young couple from Claude, stood on the pier for two hours bidding us bon voyage. We threw confetti streamers from ship to shore for an hour trying to outwit the breeze and get a few streamers ashore.

The storm which followed us from Amarillo to Miami harassed us for two days and many were seasick. Quite a bit of salty, soot-laden spray blew on us while we sat in our deck chairs. It was pretty rough, windy and cloudy with occasional showers. We were tired and needed a few days rest.

The Silver Star is a reconditioned British ship sailing under the Panamanian flag and operated by a crew of 120 Swiss, 30 Germans, and five Italian officers. They were very efficient, courteous and amiable. It is not new nor old as ships go, but rebuilt to take care of as many people as it can hold and not a luxury ship by any means.

The ship is 422 feet long with a gross tonnage of 6,050, using 50 tons of fuel oil and 30 tons of water a day.

The Arnold Bernstein Shipping Company was employed as cruise and booking agents with offices in Geneva, Switzerland.

The 315 cruise passengers included many retired people who were spending the winter in Florida.

There was a conducted group of some 50 people from St. Petersburg who joined us, most of whom wore their sports clothes well since they were used to wearing them in Florida. They said Florida has been cold so they were all needing sun tans and anxious to see the sun.

Due to strong winds we were seven hours late arriving in San Juan. At 9 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 8, we crowded down the gangplank, everyone was eager to set foot on land. After a few rough days at sea we were disappointed not to be able to see San Juan in daylight, as this might be the first and last time some would ever see it.

The streets are well-lighted and we had a taxi ride around the city of 200,000 people. There are many lovely homes, a good university, and a busy shopping center. The Caribe Hilton Hotel was the outstanding attraction. It is a modern architectural wonder, rising many stories into the air. Its balconies trailing tropical flowers. Its open air lobby with tree ferns and palms swaying in the breeze. Broad suspended stairways give the sea breezes a clean sweep through the ground floor. You dream of spending leisure hours on broad tiled balconies as the moon casts a silver gleam over all.

Charlotte Amalie of St. Thomas in the U. S. Virgin Islands is a mountainous, rocky island of 30 square miles, with little room for cultivation but with U. S. aid and a submarine base living conditions are healthy and business is good.

This charming island paradise nestles in the cleft of the harbor with houses on all levels. Our drive included historic old Bluebeards' Castle, Raphune Hill and Cassi Hill for a magnificent view of the harbor and other American and British Virgin Islands, West Indies, historic Drake Seat, overlooking Sir Francis Drake Ocean on your right. Then to new Virgin Island Hotel high on the hill for another lovely view. On through French Town, one of the quaintest settlements in the West Indies.

A group of natives collected on the deck beside our ship. Men, women and little boys entertained us all day with Calypso singing and dancing to homemade musical instruments. The women selling dolls and beads, the little boys dancing suggestively, doing anything for American money. As time drew near for the ship to leave, the dancing and music became more active. One fat, old woman, not to be outdone by the young kids scrambling for money, planted both feet wide apart and after the boys cleared away she reached down and took a coin from under each foot.

St. John's Isle of Antigua, British The Island is 108 square miles with 55,000 population. It was all freshly scrubbed and painted and decked out in flags and bunting, expecting Princess Margaret on Monday.

The sewer is an open ditch on each side of the street with water running into the sea. Natives of the population are 90 per cent black and you see them carrying things on their heads and on their donkeys.

In the outdoor public market each had his produce spread out on the cobblestone floor, exposed to the sun. Fish, lobsters, scrawny looking vegetables were all that was left at the end of the day. One woman was going home with a large fish draped over her head. The Island was all under cultivation. They produce cotton, sugar cane, a few dairy cattle and vegetables of all kinds.

The children looked happy and clean. The people live in small villages and ride their donkeys or buses to and from work. There was nothing for tourists to buy. The town boasted only of shacks carrying native supplies, but it was a lovely island and unspoiled by civilization.

Our taxi driver said that a passenger ship might come in once in two months, but after Princess Margaret's ship he didn't look for another one before June. Many natives were in the fields picking cotton. We could see the women sitting in their shacks, covered with cotton, picking and sorting it before taking it in sacks to market.

Our ship dropped anchor about two miles out in the harbor and we went ashore aboard a lighter craft that carried about 50 people at a time. The crew and some of the passengers go swimming and enjoy the sun at each of the islands.

There was a variety of colorful fish being brought in by the natives in small boats and being displayed in open markets. We saw many burros which provide transportation to the farms.

These islands, the Greater Antilles, are off the beaten track and it was very interesting to see life undisturbed by tourists. They look us over with as much interest as we display toward them. Life with them is not very complicated, with flowers, a few game chickens and many children running around the many rows and rows of shacks. Fruit such as bananas and oranges grow wild. Also bread fruit on trees and many root vegetables.

To be continued next week.

Society and the farmers have a mutual interest in the land. They share the responsibility of preserving its productivity. To meet this responsibility they must act as partners.

AUSTIN: Two big proposals for the state's water conservation program won in the Senate.

One is Sen. Dorsey Hardeman's $100 million state bond issue for aid to local projects. It calls for a constitutional amendment vote in September. The other is an enabling bill to start operations if and when the amendment is passed.

House sponsors on this, and on the Parish $200 million bond bill to aid local projects have delayed calling for final action. They don't think they have enough votes.

Tax Blank

An openly hostile revenue and taxation committee shunted Rep. Jerry Sadler's $160 million-a-year gas processing tax bill to subcommittee.

It would levy a 1-cent tax on all Texas gasoline and repeal the 4-cent gas sales tax. Opponents said it would bring a 19-cent cut in crude oil prices, costing Texas $190 million a year.

The committee left buried the two bills embodying Gov. Shivers' original tax program. It included a 2-cent hike in the 4-cent gas tax and a 1-cent boost in the 4-cent cigarette tax.

This confirmed last week's report that administration forces had abandoned the two single-shot revenue bills and pinned new hopes on Revenue Chairman Stone's omnibus bill. It would permit increases in any of the 100-odd present taxes.

The billion and a half dollar House general appropriation bill (for two years) was passed by the Senate which substituted its own version.

When the House refused to concur in Senate changes, the way was opened for a joint conference committee to resolve the differences. Lieutenant Governor Ramsey has named five Senators to the Committee and House Speaker Jim Lindsey five.

Delaying Action

Special session speculation again comes up.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips saw his filibuster record fall this week to Sen. Wayne Wagonmiller.

Like Phillips, however, Wagonmiller lost his battle. As soon as he stopped talking the Senate tentatively approved the bus registration fee measure he was fighting.

When it was all over, weary Senators suddenly discovered the marathon talks had killed two full "House bill" periods in the Senate, with only one House bill passed in two weeks.

Observers saw that, with Shivers' entire program still hanging fire, and four more Wednesday filibusters in the Senate capable of killing all of it, a new switch in administration strategy might be possible.

Thought was that Governor Shivers might ask the Legislature to lay aside the tax bill and the appropriation whopper, and pass other legislation before theoretical adjournment May 11.

That would mean his calling a special session on taxes and the appropriation bill. Appropriations must be in effect Sept. 1 to keep the wheels of government turning. He would have called in a special session, lacking now.

Point Won

At any rate, the Governor won his point on the bill regulating securities.

As the legislature headed for what looked like its worst jam in the final month of session, he made a firm request that the House adopt a Senate bill regulating securities, particularly bringing certain trust company stocks under state supervision.

"I hope the House will disregard frantic efforts of certain speculators, promoters and others . . . and vote final passage," he said. It did.

Land Case

Bascom Giles' legal troubles mounted when a group of San Antonio GIs filed a civil recovery suit in 53rd District Court.

Asking $33,000 judgment against Giles, the veterans charged that he made that much in "personal profit" out of a veterans land deal.

At the latest count, Giles faced two criminal indictments, charging conspiracy to commit theft of state funds and accepting a bribe; four felony theft charges, and four civil recovery suits.

Twice Giles has refused to testify in court about the veterans land scandals and charges against him.

"Open Door" Bills

Attorney General Shepperd has expressed "deep hope that action will be taken on the Open Door to Good Government bills during this session of the Legislature."

Most of the bills have been reported favorably by House committees, he pointed out, but some are being held for further committee study.

"They are sound, logical proposals to aid better government in Texas, to give the people a bigger voice and to more quickly reveal official wrongdoing," he said.

Shepperd referred to 13 bills dealing with full public disclosure of public records and funds. All are pending in the House of Representatives.

Most of the 13 bills have been introduced and are backed by the Texas Press Association and other groups interested in good government.

Cross Filing

Cross filing in political races is out as the result of a bill passed by both houses and signed by the Governor.

This bill by Representative Maury Maverick of San Antonio, removes from the law a sentence allowing candidates to run "as the nominee of two or more political parties for the same office."

Controversy arose over cross-filing when Governor Shivers and other state candidates were listed in 1952 as the nominees of both the Democratic and the Republican parties.

Lawyers Must Take Unpopular Cases Regardless Feelings

"The first thing we do, let's kill all the lawyers."

Shakespeare puts these words in the mouth of Dick, the butcher, one of Jack Cade's followers, in the play, "King Henry the Sixth."

It has been quoted often as an example of the occasional antipathy of the public toward lawyers. However, an examination of the play reveals a rather interesting turn to this quotation.

Jack Cade was a pretender to the throne of England. In the process of inciting his rebellion, he promised the rabble that they would get several halfpenny loaves for a penny, and all three-hooped pots should have ten-hoops, all things should be in common, the laws of England would come from his mouth, and his mouth would be parliament.

Here was the promise of dictatorship, socialism and Communism, all rolled into one, in the time of Shakespeare, and in order to accomplish these results the first thing to be done was to kill all the lawyers, who would naturally oppose any such system.

Upon the pages of history are the names of lawyers whose contribution to our free society was so great that they are beacons by which all men continue to see their inalienable rights shine forth in the darkness of dictatorship and injustice.

One, whose name stands out on the early pages of history as a champion of all men in their striving for equality, was Cicero. Chrysogonus, the political power of Rome, condemned Roscius, so that his property might be confiscated for the benefit of Chrysogonus.

When no one else would defend Roscius of Chrysogonus, Cicero came forward and, with the knowledge that he stood against the most powerful figure in Rome, made himself immortal when he refused to temper his argument, courageously attacked Chrysogonus, and shamed the court into turning from cowardice to follow the law and set Roscius free.

Thus was broken the abuse of the powerful in using the courts to deprive men of their liberty, their rights and possessions. Cicero's act is a tradition of the legal profession today.

Look also to Lord Coke, who defied King James when he said the king is under the law, and thus again set the pattern for the supremacy of law for all, high and low alike.

America has had many great lawyers to whom each of us owe, and will continue to owe, a tremendous debt of gratitude, for the privilege of justice as we have it today.

John Adams, one of the leading patriots of Boston, endangered his life and his career by defending the British soldiers involved in the Boston Massacre. He later applied his deep-seated convictions of human rights and freedoms by assisting in the framing of the Declaration of Independence.

Our history books contain many other stirring examples. In the preservation of the individual's rights of freedom, the lawyer's training and tradition compels him to agree with Voltaire when he said, "I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

War?

The President's condemnation of those who engage in war talk met with general approval in Washington. Many had become alarmed at some of the statements that were being made about this country getting into a war with Red China within a matter of days or weeks. In the first place, if there had been any intention of this country getting into a war with Red China in the immediate future, the worst possible thing that could be done would be to advertise it to the enemy. In the second place, an immediate war between this country and Red China would be the most tasteful morsel that Russia could desire.

It seems that there are certain forces in this country who are bent on trying to force an international incident that could trigger the present cold war into a hot war in the Far East. Quemoy and Matsu could make perfect triggers for this purpose. It is very easy to scream in a loud voice about this country going to war if Red China attempts to take Quemoy and Matsu.

Frankly, I detest this kind of talk because it is nothing but war talk. The truth is that Quemoy and Matsu are now in the hands of the Nationalist Chinese who are allies of ours. If the Red Chinese attack these islands, certainly we have the right to defend them and stand up against aggression with all of the resources at our disposal. However, if the President chose not to expend any of our resources in the defense of these two islands, it would hardly behoove anyone to condemn and criticize him. There are many, many items to be carefully considered concerning the action of this country with regard to these two islands.

I think that the loud-mouths should stop trying to put the President and Mr. Dulles on the spot concerning them. In my opinion, either or both of these islands could well prove to be a military liability. Certainly, either or both of them are not worth the blood of one American boy.

Regardless of the clamor of the war mongers, and the perennial critics of whomever might be in charge of our foreign affairs, I do not believe that this country is going to be drawn into any sizeable conflict over Quemoy or Matsu. If we ever go to war with Red China, and God forbid that circumstances ever require it, it will be for reasons of much greater weight than two islands off the Asiatic coast.

The Grain Sorghum Problem

Changing from the international to the domestic scene, Washington has been honored with the presence of some honest to goodness grassrooters from the Southwest. I speak of the delegation who come to Washington on behalf of the grain sorghum growers. We had a nice visit with Dr. Gabriel Hauge, economic advisor of the President. The problem was laid out to Dr. Hauge for conveyance to the President in the straightforward and easily understood language of our great section of the country.

The following morning this group entertained about 15 senators and congressmen at a breakfast in the Congressional Hotel. At this meeting the problem was again laid out in the plain, simple and understandable English to which we are accustomed. There wasn't a man present who didn't thoroughly understand and appreciate what these people are up against.

That afternoon we went to the office of Secretary Benson, and the whole gang, the folks from home, the U.S. Senators, the Congressmen and the agricultural aides, all gathered in the Secretary's private office and sat down for an hour's heart to heart talk on the subject. The Secretary was visibly impressed, which incidentally is unusual. He remained in the meeting for its full length, which is also unusual.

His able assistants were gathering figures together before we got out of the building. We sincerely hope that something comes of this meeting and that the problem is corrected. The Secretary promised us that he would thoroughly review it and re-evaluate it with the hope of being able to make some adjustments.

AAUW HAS BUSY MEETING AT ITS REGULAR SESSION

The coming convention of the Texas Division, the legislative program of the national organization, and the May reception for young women who are seniors at Canyon High School and those who are being graduated from West Texas State College were matters of discussion at the meeting of the American Association of University Women on Monday night.

Among those who will attend the division meeting at San Antonio will be Mrs. Lowell Harrison, local president, and Mrs. Charles Harter, the immediate past president.

The first Monday in May, the reception honoring the seniors will be held at Cousins Hall. The arrangements committee has Mrs. Dan Sanders, Mrs. L. B. Penick, and Miss Gladys Armstrong as its members.

The Canyon Branch indicated by its vote Monday, a sympathetic attitude toward reforms in legislative procedure which have been proposed by the Midland Branch.

A film furnished by the American Cancer Society was a special feature, since April is the month in which education concerning cancer is stressed throughout the country.

Miss Jane Darland was elected first vice-president and Mrs. Joe Lee, treasurer for the coming year.

Following the general session Monday, opera and international relations were continuing studies of two groups. The drama study group meets on another Monday night.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is giving serious thought to a meeting with the Prime Minister of Great Britain, either Sir Winston Churchill or his successor. Purpose of the meeting would be to emphasize the continuing strength of the U. S.-British alliance even during a period of change in the leadership of Great Britain.

The President is not at all happy over new Russian gestures aimed at putting a squeeze on Berlin. Berlin's isolation brings up the part that Mr. Eisenhower's top aides played in the failure to assure a land corridor across Russian-occupied territory to Berlin. This failure to provide a supply route from West Germany to Berlin forced the Berlin airlift and continues to prove very costly to the Allies.

Democrats are going to try to bring into the open the full story of Mr. Eisenhower's part in keeping Gen. George Patton, at the end of the last war, from occupying Prague, Czechoslovakia, when the Czechs wanted the Americans to come in ahead of the Russians. Ike wasn't involved in the Yalta papers, but Democrats think that his name will crop up if they can get papers dealing with the last days of the war in Europe.

Mr. Eisenhower is impressing upon top officials his view that anything that gets him in trouble must stand the consequences of that trouble. The President is not inclined to accept explanations that the official really didn't say what he was pictured in reports to the press as saying.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, Army Staff Chief, and Adm. Robert Carney, Navy Operations Chief, have written magazine articles that are being held up by new rules cracking down on military officials speaking or writing for publication.

Admiral Carney really didn't say at a secret dinner of a few newspapermen that the Communists were going to attack the islands of Quemoy and/or Matsu on or around April 15. That's just what he was reported as saying when the secrets quickly "leaked" and were magnified for public consumption. The Admiral gave a simple briefing on the military situation around Formosa as the Navy sees it, pointing out that, if an attack is to come in 1955, this is the best time for it from an attacker's standpoint.

Gen. Nathan Twining and the U. S. Air Force are far less excited about the possibility that Mao Tse-tung's Communists may hit the offshore islands now held by Chiang Kai-shek than are the Army or the Navy. Air Force officers figure that it would be a fairly easy job to knock out the Communist Air Force in event of a fight and then destroy bases and supply lines.

James Hagerty, the President's own Press Secretary, is one of those who attended a secret dinner to spill news to a few writers. Mr. Hagerty used the dinner to knock down the idea that war is near. Some Washington correspondents now are saying that you have to go to dinner with the right people to learn whether or not there is to be war.

It is surprising how many political dopesters are coming to the conclusion that the next Republican nominee for the Presidency will be Chief Justice Earl Warren, if Mr. Eisenhower balks at being drafted. The President will be in a position to name the man to be chosen if he does step out himself.

Adlai Stevenson, less than 18 months before the national political conventions, continues to show great indifference to the idea of a second try at the Democratic presidential nomination. Mr. Stevenson's friends indicate that they figure a draft movement would look better, if successful, than the nomination, and they are shaping up plans with that in view.

A deal is cooking in Congress between Congressmen interested in raising the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour and Congressmen interested in getting higher support prices for farm products. Labor leaders, however, are becoming concerned that the deal may backfire if the drive for higher price support fails.

Sir Anthony Eden is reported to be considering publication of a British version of the Yalta papers. Sir Winston Churchill, the man who represented Britain at Yalta as Prime Minister, actually has published his memoirs of that period, selling them at a very high price in the U. S. and Britain.

Sir Anthony is somewhat less inclined to see eye to eye with U. S. on issues of foreign policy than is Sir Winston. The former seems to feel that John Foster Dulles, U. S. Secretary of State, is not properly impressed by the British viewpoint on many points of world dispute that concern their countries.

Insiders in Britain are predicting that Conservatives will call a general election for either May 26 or June 16, but there is a good deal of hedging on these dates now that Labor Party leaders, in a change of tactics, are deciding to forget their differences for the time being.

Water Treatment Job Is Important To All Citizens

AUSTIN: Meet the Man of the Hour.

He's the man who runs the water treatment plant in your home town. Does the task sound prosaic? Well, listen . . . Without the commodity he handles men and cities would slowly die.

You use his handiwork with confidence, yet without thought, each time you turn the faucet and drink of the cool, clean water.

Each time you fill the basin to wash your face, or brush your teeth or shave. Or water the garden. Or fill the bird bath. Or on any one of a hundred other occasions during the course of a single, fleeting day.

Boiled down to its simplest terms his job is one of collecting water at a central point for processing, making it safe for human consumption, and transporting it to our homes and places of business. It goes on 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

Today — April 7 — is really his day. It's World Health Day, the theme of which is "clean water means better health."

The Man of the Hour retails clean water. Is that important? So important that no tyrant has ever dared deny it to his people. Wars have been fought over water. Once mighty nations have collapsed because their supplies had been cut off.

The wandering children of Israel faltered in the desert and threatened rebellion until Moses smote a rock and brought forth a spring.

Because of what the Man of the Hour does during his 8-hour shift at the plant, the 400-odd gallons of water you use every day—assuming you're average—is delivered to you in all its life-giving cleanliness.

How does he do it? By knowing how to operate and maintain the equipment of his trade. By knowing the proper use of the chemicals of purification. Therefore, he is part engineer, part chemist. Prosaic? Hardly.

His badge of merit is his cherished operator's license, bestowed only on those who have demonstrated ability to handle vital assignments in the treatment plant.

The use of water so pervades human life that it sometimes loses its significance. Thus does the Man of the Hour get slighted when the public hands out its accolades for vital service.

Why not drop by the plant some time today. Look the place over. Ask questions. And, if the thought occurs to you, say "thanks" to the Man of the Hour.

New School Building Is Accepted Tuesday From the Contractor

Pictured in front of the new school building which was accepted Tuesday from the contractors are members of the School Board, Architects and Contractor. Standing in front of the building are: Bill Townes and Jim Bailey, architects, Walter Graham, Newton Crain, W. R. Crow, Supt. Joe Gibson, Wilford Taylor, Jr., Bailey McCormick, Arthur C. Haley, Jr., Roy N. Byrd, Jr., and Howard Gohman, contractor.

The new Canyon Elementary School located between Tenth and Twelfth Streets in the south part of the city of Canyon, is completely finished and ready for occupancy when school opens next September.

The new school is of modern design, having bi-lateral lighting, cross ventilation and the lighting from the clear story upper windows is controlled by louvers which filter the light into the classrooms.

The building contains 23 classrooms which are 28 feet by 30 feet, a cafeteria which is 40 feet by 70 feet, and an all purpose room which is 50 feet by 70 feet. There is a large stage adjacent to the all purpose room which can readily be used for any type of school or community program.

The kitchen equipment for the cafeteria has been installed and contains a walk-in refrigerator unit, two modern stoves, (one for baking and one for general purposes) a stainless steel steam table and a serving counter. The cafeteria also has food preparation tables and all the accessories that are needed in a modern kitchen.

The building has plaster ceilings throughout, all corridors have tile wainscoat, and instant fluorescent lights have been used throughout the building. The floors are covered with vinyl tile and vary in color to match the color design in the building. The building has aluminum chalk board trim and chalk rail, formica cabinet top, drinking fountain, and wash basin in each room.

The contract price for the entire building was $416,456.00. This price included all cafeteria equipment, the sound system, and the side walks, which are not ordinarily included in the general contract. The building contains 45,850 sq. ft. and the sq. ft. cost of the building excluding the above items is approximately $8.32 sq. ft.

The contractors for the building were Gonman and Crouch Construction Company of Borger and the architect firm was William C. Townes and Associates of Amarillo.

Small Business Was Subject For Two Discussions

Dr. Aaron Q. Sartain of SMU, Dallas, discussed small business in two talks in Canyon Thursday. He was brought here by the Vocational Service Committee of the Rotary Club for the discussions.

Thursday afternoon a large number of local men met Dr. Sartain at the college cafeteria where he explained the joys of conducting a small business, one which would be a service to the community in which it was located.

While he would not wipe out the profit incentive to business, the speaker pointed out the fact that profits follow the greatest service which individuals and businesses render.

Dr. Sartain had not been in Canyon for 10 years. He married a daughter of Rev. Clarence Wylie, former Presbyterian missionary, who lived here. He illustrated his talks with experiences in discussing the problems of both large and small business, and with his three children.

The world has greatly changed in recent years, stated the speaker. Those who do not realize this change will soon be lost in the shuffle. From World War I to World War II there had been an increase in the general education of soldiers 33 1/3 percent; and 50 percent actually. The newspapers, radio, television have been responsible for this change. Business men must keep up with these changes in their method of doing business.

While income is no measure of ability, and there is too much poverty in the nation, yet let it be remembered that income has greatly increased.

19 million women are employed in this nation today. 30% of all workers in the nation are women. Their influence as workers; on politics, and economics, has been greatly felt.

The growth of trade unions has been tremendous in recent years. Operators of small business were advised not to be chained to the past; to beware of restrictive legislation; to support local civic enterprises; to meet people, believe in people; to believe in the future; to live right before all men.

Following the dinner at 7:30 o'clock at the cafeteria, Dr. Sartain again talked to 130 persons who had gathered. Dr. Dudley Moore, chairman of the Vocational Service Committee of the Rotary Club, presided. The speaker was presented by Luther Hagard, a former student of Dr. Sartain at SMU.

The speaker stated that he preferred to call the meeting a "Human relations conference," and complimented the Rotary club for having inaugurated this service in Canyon.

Fifteen years ago the business man could expect good work from his help, when there were good working conditions. Labor shortage during the war brought a change. Labor cannot be taken for granted any more. There is always a certain amount of hardship; a certain amount of responsibility with every job. It is much more important as to how you give instruction than what you say.

Every person is not out for himself, stated the speaker. People are not entirely selfish. It is just a part of human nature to want to serve others. Every person should be willing to look himself in the eye and claim: "I am a good sport — not objecting the harsh treatment of inconveniences." "I am a good citizen."

The employee, employer, salesman, are all members of a team when it comes to selling. The suggestion of each should be taken; the suggestions of the customer is likewise essential. Each and every person sets an

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

According to one of the nation's leading news magazines, U. S. News and World Report, more people are turning to church now than at any other time in the history of the U.S.A. Intelligence is becoming the foundation for religion now rather than the emotions. This should help Christianity a great deal.

A lot of people discuss with some disdain the question of the U. S. as a Christian nation. There's a good article in the March Coronet magazine for those who are losing faith in the U. S. This was probably not the reason the article was written but it carries the message that the U. S. is a Christian nation. The title of the article is, "Why the Italians Hate Us." It is written by an Italian and it has some good basic psychology in it that can be used on an individual basis as well as an international basis. It is an article well worth reading and re-reading by every person on earth. Not many people will read the article and still fewer will give it any serious thought.

There is still plenty of room for improvement in the U. S. toward becoming a Christian nation. Although this improvement is painfully slow, some progress is being made.

Speaking of church work and functions, we were at a church dinner last week and sat across the table from Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Henson and their oldest daughter, Beverly Jean. The Hensons are brilliant conversationalists which makes an evening with them an enjoyable event. The conversation last week was of men and waistlines. Some people claim this bulging subject is simple imagination while others maintain that the cleaners are shrinking their clothes. Actually it only seems that time passes and newspaper type shrinks, telephone booths get smaller and the walking distance of the blocks gets longer. Strange things happen as time goes by.

The weather was certainly in the news last week. The wind tossed things about as though in a mad fury it was displeased with everything. One of the light planes that was being kept out east of town at the landing field there was tossed up on top of one of the hanger buildings. Mrs. Golden Currie called us and gave us a tip on the incident.

Improvements are still being made in the court house. The painting over there really helps the looks of the inside of the building. We had a short conversation with Mr. Breitling and Justice of the Peace Carl Anderson Saturday morning about the improvement being made. Breitling is happy because the new paint job will make the court house walls easier to keep clean. Anderson is happy because of the sparkling appearance the walls will retain. More things than trees brighten up in springtime.

Charles and Theresa Hillier are happily anticipating their new house. Of course it's just in the planning stage now but that is the most exciting stage of building a home. The planning stage is where you really enjoy the home. After that it gets into the work stage and continues in this stage throughout the future. The moral of this little message is, "If you're going to build a house, be sure and have fun during the planning," after that it turns into work.

Well here we are at the end again. It's that part that sort of trails off into nothingness.

Here goes the first nothing, "the awkward age for adults is when they get too old to get up early but are still too young to go to bed early.

Husband to wife at party, "Open your mouth again, dear, I believe there's room in it for the other foot."

One for the liars' club. Everyone knows how fast the temperature changes in West Texas but the other day was a change for the record. It started getting hot and the mercury started climbing. It got so hot that the top of the thermometer broke but just as the mercury hit the top, the temperature started falling and fell so fast that the bottom part of the mercury knocked the bottom out of the thermometer.

Happy Baptists To Hold Revival Meet April 8th Thru 17th

The First Baptist Church of Happy has planned to enter the simultaneous revival effort with other Baptists in this area. The date used by the Happy Baptists is April 8, extending through April 17. ### CANYON H. D. CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR NEXT MEETING

The Canyon Home Demonstration Club had its regular business meeting Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt with 11 members and three visitors present. One of the visitors was Mrs. Ralph Ruthart who told the club about materials for making hats. The materials were ordered and the members plan to make hats on their May 6 meeting in the home of Mrs. J. R. Parker.

The club has approximately $35 to be turned over to the Randall County Library fund drive. The exact amount has not been arrived at as part of the proceeds are from a recent party held by the club. An $8.50 check the club is turning over to the Library fund drive is from the appliance demonstration at Wirt Electric Company.

Members present Friday were Mesdames D. A. Brown, Glenn Haynes, Marion Higdon, C. J. Hughes, Douglas Loudder, Luke Miller, Bill Money, W. O. Nunley, J. R. Parker, Crawford Ruthart, and the hostess. Visitors were Mrs. Dent, Mrs. Ralph Ruthart, and Mrs. Keith Poole.

The next meeting of the club will be a regular business meeting. It is to be conducted in the home of Mrs. Douglas Loudder on April 15.
